A WELCOME ADDRESS BY THE AG. DIRECTOR CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL STUDIES CHUKWUEMEKA ODUMEGWU OJUKWU UNIVERSITY, AT THE 2024
EMPLOYMENT READINESS AND JOB CREATION (ERJC) PROGRAMME

PROTOCOL

We are elated to welcome everyone to this Year's Employment Readiness and Job Creation (ERJC) Programme. The theme of the ERJC programme for this year is: “Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Startups in Nigeria.”

The Centre for Entrepreneurial Studies (CES), of our beloved University is the home of dreams and possibilities. Here, ideas are nurtured and taught to grow wings and fly! We encourage our students and staff to dream dreams. We encourage our people to dream dreams because dreams are what grow people as individuals and as a nation. Kill the dreams of the young people and you kill the individual's and the nation's future. We also teach that dreams backed up by passion that may ultimately lead to success. At CES we acknowledge the need for success, the success that comes from dedication to an ideal, a stream of creative and innovative undertakings backed up by hard work and passion.

We chose the word 'undertakings' as apt because many people think that entrepreneurship is the reserve of commercial individuals or activities, but far from this, entrepreneurship pervades all facets of human endeavours, it can be found in religion, the performing arts, and entertainment, sports, science, and technological endeavours and so on. It is also found in private, public, and non-profit organisations. An example here is our dynamic Ag. Vice Chancellor Prof. Kate Azuka Omenugha who has in the short time she has been here in our great university, changed the face of COOU, our systems, and procedures and is still not satisfied with the success of her creativity and innovation.

Here at CES, counter-intuitively, we also teach failure, embrace failure, celebrate failure, archive it, use it, and then, and only then, can we worship and adore success when it comes and when it is achieved. Failure has values. Therefore, failure is not the signal that we have reached the end of the road, rather, it is a building block on which we build the road to success. So we urge you our beloved possible graduates to do your best and use your passion to push your best. Whatever you believe in, like I believe and rely on God Almighty, pray fervently and have faith. Do not abandon your passion for what you do. It drives you to get up and move forward. Believe in yourself.

Presently, we are providing the GSS211 Entrepreneurship and Innovation and GSS311 Business Creation and Growth courses to our students under the Basic Minimum Standard (BMAS, 2011) and will start the transition to Core Curriculum Basic Minimum Academic Standards (CCMAS, 2023) as required by the National Universities Commission (NUC).

In Support of the two courses, the CES annually organises a training-of-trainers (TOT) Entrepreneurship and Venture Creation Workshop, the last held in November 2023 for all academic staff representation of programmes/departments in the university.

In addition to the two courses, mentioned above, CES mounts an annual Employment Readiness and Job Creation Programme (ERJC) for final-year students of the university in the second semester of each academic year. This is the reason why we are here today.

We will have our annual conference and trade fair to be held later in the year. As part of the offering to the students, we have opened, this academic session, the Chukwuemeka Odumegwu Ojukwu

Theme: Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

University(COOU) Driving School which has been licenced by the Federal Road Safety Corp (FRSC). Beyond the Inspection of FRSC, the CES has also hosted successfully an NUC inspection team from 17th to 19th April 2024 to verify our compliance with the NUC standards, only 40 EDCs in Nigeria were on the first list for this visitation. We have received accreditation as an academy for CISCO training and we are taking off immediately. We have an Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the United Nations Industrial Organisation (UNIDO) and our staff have also been trained both internationally and within the country by them. We are also working on an MOU with the Fisheries and Aquaculture Business Development Agency (FABDA) of Anambra State in collaboration with the private sector, FABDA and the Directorate of Economic Affairs and Agriculture in the ECOWAS Commission.

Importantly, a new proposal to engage with financial institutions is envisioned with the Central Bank of Nigeria and bodies like the Small and Medium Enterprises Development Agency of Nigeria (SMEDAN) and other financial institutions, as a result of having overcome most of the hurdles in the way of partnering with these bodies to find practical ways for students and graduates of the University to acquire needed startup funds.

We are exploring opportunities that are available to the CES for taking part in the '1 Youth 2 Skills Programme' of Mr Governor, Prof. Charles Chukwuma Soludo's Solution Agenda. We are also engaging the Anambra State House of Assembly to use entrepreneurial training and support for young entrepreneurs who are their constituents as constituency projects. One such proposed and accepted project has been negotiated to take place very soon.

The main objective of the efforts of CES is to provide a conducive environment for delivering entrepreneurial learning, teaching, and research to ensure the sustainable production of graduates with an entrepreneurial mindset that can on graduation be applied to any area of life. Presently, in the facilities of the Centre, there are laboratories for carrying out skill practicals that assist in allowing the students to begin the journey of mindset change. We have a database of graduates and opportunities that are identified can be communicated to the graduates and consultancy services can also be offered to them. We have identified more facilities and teaching resources for entrepreneurial education available in the university and its immediate environment.

The CES has a faculty made up of the director and other unit heads. Staff members of different departments and faculties are also recruited to assist in the mindset change agenda in addition to outside resource persons/consultants.

In Conclusion, The Centre for Entrepreneurial Studies is poised and sustainably ready to deliver on its stated mission and vision to deliver entrepreneurial education and a continuous flow of entrepreneurial-minded graduates through its stated objectives. We wish our beloved graduating students good luck in your future endeavours and please keep in touch.

Thank you, the Visitor, Honourable Commissioners, Ag. VC and her management team, my fellow distinguished Directors of EDCs and all our esteemed and highly respected visitors, guests, staff, gentlemen of the press and our dear possible graduates for gracing this opening ceremony.

Abstract

There is no denying the fact that Nigeria has defied the law of gravity that extrapolates in “whatever that goes up must come down. No thanks to the global economic meltdown that has had profound negative influence on countries of the world, which have resulted to country such as Nigeria nose-diving further underground economically. According to Aladekomo, (2004), in ABIODUN (2019), “unemployment can be traced down to the period of our colonial masters or inherited imperialist, who regarded that education then can absorb the citizen to enviable positions and civil service, as public servants during the colonial era. That the then policy of Education was basically on production of forest guards, clerks, sanitary inspectors and interpreters, but not on professional or entrepreneurial skills” The study seeks to know how hysteresis, entrepreneurial, persistency can act as a driving force for new business startups to be motivated to break new grounds in seeking for a new alternative to government paid employment, bring about business sustainability and end unemployment in Nigeria, through self-employment. To reverse this trend, and to address this economic woos, solutions were based on self-help, through talent discovery, innovative ideas and self-motivation. Conceptual clarification was explored to draw out the meanings and understand what Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial, and Persistency, as a Driving Forces towards sustainability of Graduate Business Startups. Operational Definition was applied and It was tilted towards defying the adverse economic crisis occasioned by recession that has led to massive unemployment for graduates, and seeing more of its potentials and exploring avenues to put to use talents and ideas, by deploying such knowledge in other to create employment for themselves, and others, succeeding through being innovative, courageous and passion driving, in other to stay afloat of the turbulent economic waters presently and in the future. The paper also, suggested that to succeed in the world of business, it is necessary to be, Visionary, Stay and Discuss with Like Minds, NYSC, Capacity building development and Staying innovative, new business startups will not only start, but be sustained.

Key Word: Hysteresis; Entrepreneurial; Persistency; Driving Force; Sustainability; Graduate; Business Startups

Introduction/ Background to the Study

According to Amawu, & E. Ekienabor, (2019), “ Despite the huge investment pumped into youth development and youth related matters, entrepreneurial activities are still low, training is almost non-existent, savings rate is still low, unemployment continues to exacerbate, capacity utilization is low, manufacturing output continues to plummet and small and medium scale entrepreneurs are still not able to access enough finance for investments” as a result these businesses are left with no other choice, but close up their enterprises and the resultant effect, is throwing many back into the labour market. Despite the human and natural resources that abound, Nigeria is still one of the poorest countries in the world and has one of the highest rates of youth unemployment in sub-Sahara Africa, all thanks to manmade deliberate attempt to impoverish and ensure that the welfare of the youths does not really get the target audience In respect to the above sad and deplorable situation, the government has done little and lack the will to even attempt, all because of rotational circle of bad leadership who ensures that the welfare of the youths does not really hit the target audience

Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

In respect to the above sad and deplorable situation, the government has done little and lack the will to even attempt, all because of rotational circle of bad leadership who ensures that the welfare of the youths does not really hit the target audience

The global economic meltdown that has had profound negative influence on countries of the world, which have resulted to country such as Nigeria nose-diving further underground economically. A situation that has shown even the blind that the leadership of the country is helpless and any willingness to take another bold steps, further plunges the economy into economic abyss has not helped matters thereby, allowing prices of goods and services to run on autopilot, industries closing up every day, thousands of jobs lost and millions of graduates churn out yearly, all running around in desperation and search of employment that does not exist anymore and even if there are, those at the top, had already reserved these jobs for their relatives and cronies.

The Country is like a ship derailed by the strong storm of the sea and everybody sitting hand akimbo, waiting for the doom's day, just because of policy errors and unwillingness to work the talk, on the path of political leadership of this country. Aladekomo, (2004), in ABIODUN, (2019), believes that, “unemployment can be traced down to the period of our colonial master or inherited imperialist, who regarded that education then can absorb the citizen to enviable positions and civil service, as public servants during the colonial era.

That the then policy of Education was basically on production of forest guards, clerks, sanitary inspectors and interpreters, but not on professional or entrepreneurial skills”.

In his view also, Oviawe, (2010) share the same opinion “that massive unemployment from Nigerian Universities was traced to the disequilibrium between labor market requirements and lack of essential employable skill by the graduates. In the same Vain, Banabo and Ndiomu (2011) concurs and asserts that, “The recent global melt down of the economic brought the country to the reality that Nigeria has its post-colonial dependent on the oil and gas economy, which lead many graduates to become job scarce of dilemma. Ejere and Tende (2012) submitted that, the Nigerian educational system in universities produced graduate only suitable for White Collar jobs with little or no basic skills or vocational knowledge which end up in unemployment”

FRN. (2004), refrains from the blame game occasioned by Graduate's unemployment, and opines that “large number of youth that are graduates from various institutions of higher learning joined the labor market yearly. It sounds inappropriate if they rely on government solely to provide job, rather entrepreneurship will be the best alternative for job creation. This will reduce the number of graduates that parade the street of towns and cities in search of White Collar jobs, which is known to be difficult particularly during time of economic recession”

However, even with economic woos associated with the high cost of goods and services, the unbaiting rise in transportation, and production in Nigeria economy, a guest writer in The Nation newspaper, (2023), is believes that, “The vibrant Nigerian start-up scene has been buzzing with energy as young entrepreneurs take center stage in shaping the country's economic landscape.....,” because, “Nigeria offers immense potential for budding business owners who dare to dream big and chase their passions. After all, George Washington (the first American president, and farmer) touts that Perseverance and spirit have done wonders in all ages” It is in line with the above quotes that this discourse will dwell on and to expose and challenge our graduates into action to take their place in the common wealth of this country

Secondly, it seeks to expose the challenges that lies ahead of our graduating students, but also show them opportunities that abound in the country and make them understand that with resilience, persistency and entrepreneurial spirit, they can turn hysteresis in Nigeria's economic meltdown and the negative effects of inflation, unemployment, as a driving forces towards sustainability of graduate business startups.

Purpose of Study

The study seeks to understand what hysteresis is, how it affects the youth and how our graduating students can explore the numerous potentials in hysteresis through, entrepreneurial spirit, persistency which act as a driving force for new business startups to be motivated to break new grounds, bring about business sustainability and end unemployment in Nigeria through self employment.

Conceptual Clarifications

Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial, Persistency, as a Driving Forces towards sustainability of Graduate Business Startups

Hysteresis

Hysteresis, as a concept is problematic in terms of universality of a common definition, because of scholarly different views about the concept. The term, "hysteresis" is derived from an Ancient Greek word meaning "deficiency" or "lagging behind". It was coined in 1881 by Sir James Alfred Ewing to describe the behavior of magnetic materials. Some early work on describing hysteresis in mechanical systems was performed by James Clerk Maxwell.

Investopedia, (2024), refers to hysteresis as "An event in the economy that persists into the future, even after the factors that led to that event has been removed. It include the delayed effects of unemployment, whereby the unemployment rate continues to rise even after the economy has recovered. Hysteresis can indicate a permanent change in the workforce from the loss of job skills making workers less employable even after a recession has ended" Pettinger. T. (2017), in his view from historical perspective, sees hysteresis as "A concept which states that history affects the value of a current issue. In economics, hysteresis states that historical rates of unemployment are likely to influence the current and future rates of unemployment. If there is a recession and rise in cyclical unemployment, this temporary unemployment can affect the underlying structural rate and increase the natural rate of unemployment. This phenomenon can make unemployment a lagging factor" Hysteresis is a concept that refers to the lag between the input and output of a system, particularly concerning changes in temperature, pressure, or magnetic fields. When a magnetic material is subjected to an external magnetic field, its atomic and molecular dipoles align with the applied field. This alignment results in the material becoming magnetized. However, when the external field is removed, some materials lose their magnetism almost entirely, while others retain a significant portion. Hysteresis in sociology refers to a concept recognized by Pierre Bourdieu that describes the dislocation and disruption between field and habitus during volatile times. It is a versatile concept that can be applied to understand various social phenomena. In the context of the education system, hysteresis can be seen as a result of widening participation, social congestion in the workplace, and high levels of debt, which contribute to the rise of mental health disorders among undergraduate students. Overall, hysteresis provides a framework for understanding the complex interactions and dynamics within social systems. Although many scholars have discussed hysteresis from the point of meaning and its negative effects like, "a lag behind", "the delayed effects of unemployment", "the unemployment rate continues to rise even after the economy has recovered", and "loss of job skills making workers less employable"

Theme:

Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

What is the result of hysteresis in an Economy or on Society?

1. Loss of jobs
2. Unemployment
3. Youth crime and criminality
4. Loss of manpower and low economic growth as a result of low taxable adults
5. It can lead to future slowdown of the economy that will further lead to future unemployment
6. Infrastructural decay because lack of fund to develop and finance such projects etc.

However, this paper on the other hands sees hysteresis as a phenomena that can lead to increase in wealth creation, through innovative ideas. It is a necessary natural or made phenomena to motivate a people, to take bold steps in other to resist unfavorable economic difficulties.

Historically, hysteresis or recession, is like a generational occurrence, either as a natural phenomenon or bad leadership economic policies or eco -system's interferences, especially in developing world, but in all, countries have a way of bouncing back when pragmatic steps are taken.

Humans are designed by nature to dominate its environment and it is through adverse situations, such as hysteresis, recession or adversity, that the best in peoples are manifested.

Therefore, graduate startups can tap from millions of opportunities abounding in this period of difficulty to become the best they want to be.

Entrepreneurial

The word entrepreneurship was birthed in early 17th century, Richard Cantillon, an economist who is originally called as developer of entrepreneurship coined the term “entrepreneur” and in late 17th century, it was defined that entrepreneur bears the risk, supervises and owns the factor of production. Later in 1803, Jean Baptiste Say proposed that profits earned by the entrepreneur are different from the profit earned by the capital owner and thus differentiated between both. Later in late 18th century distinction was further made clear between those who supply funds and earn interests and the one who earns from entrepreneurial activities. In 1934, Joseph Schumpeter defines entrepreneur as an innovator and later in 1964, Peter Drucker defined the entrepreneur as the one who maximizes opportunities. In 20th century, as technology improves and globalization takes place, the entrepreneur does not only make profits but also has to tap into new markets, develop new products and processes. Thus, entrepreneurship has taken new meanings in this century and a lot more has to be added.

According to Cambridge English Dictionary “Entrepreneurial, relates to someone who starts their own business or is good at seeing new opportunities to make money. Entrepreneurial involves considerable individual initiative and risks”

Graduate

A Graduate is someone who has completed a training course or training and awarded an academic degree.

Oxford Dictionary defines it as, “A person who has successfully completed a course of study or training, especially a person who has been awarded an undergraduate or first academic degree”.

Characteristics of a Graduate?

1. A graduate is trained to be multi-tasked orientated
2. Understands and plans how to reach their goals
3. Always self-motivated to succeed in spite of all odds
4. Works hard in a smart way
5. Understands how to allocate scarce resources effectively
6. Has zero tolerance for laziness, but cloth themselves with passion for discovery
7. Can integrate scattered data and draw up concepts
8. Physically and mentally fit.

Business Startups

M. Grant, (2024), propounds that, business startup refers to a “Company in the first stages of operations. Startups are founded by one or more entrepreneurs who want to develop a product or service for which they believe there is demand. These companies generally start with high costs and limited revenue, which is why they look for capital from a variety of sources such as venture capitalists”.

M. Grant, (2024), in investopedia, agrees that it is a company or project that is focused on a single innovative product or service that the founders want to bring to market. Startups are usually in the beginning stages of their operation and may lack adequate capital or a fully developed business model. Startup founders often seek external investment or validation to scale their business and disrupt industries.

E. McGowan, (2022), draws his definitions of a startup from business founders like Wil Schroter and concludes that “A startup is a human institution designed to create a new product or service under conditions of extreme uncertainty.”

“A startup is the living embodiment of a founder's dream,” Wil says. “It represents the journey from concept to reality. It is one of the few times when you can take something that is only a dream and make it a reality, not just for yourself, but for the entire world.”

E. McGowan. (2022), ex-trays the difference between startups and small businesses and concludes that:

“All startups by their very nature will start out being small businesses, but not all small businesses are startups. The difference with startups is that it's their goal to no longer be a startup at some point in the future, while many small business owners are more than happy for their small businesses to remain small businesses.”

M. McGowan (2022), quotes Jochem Wijnands, while defining business startup to his child, says, “A startup is a modern version of an inventor. It experiences a problem and then tries to solve it with ingenuity. A successful startup typically wants to solve a problem and make the world a better place.”

Stephanie Caudle, the Founder of Black Girl Group, agrees.

“A startup is a company that solves a problem,”

Stephanie further argues that, “If your company isn't solving a problem, your company is simply an idea.

A job is often just a job, when you're working for someone else. But when you're the startup owner and running it? It's much, much more.

“In my experience, a startup is a job you cannot quit, that does not pay, and which you cannot live without,” Sacha Nitsetska, Founder and CEO of Mentorforward, tells Startups.com.

“Ideally, it is also an organization that is doing something that has never been done before, and that has the potential to change the world. Growth numbers and the rest are just an output from the above with some good execution, right tactics and great advisors added in just the right amount.

Operational Definition

It is defying the adverse economic crisis occasioned by recession that has led to massive unemployment for graduating students and seeing more of its potentials and exploring avenues to put to use talents and ideas, by deploying such knowledge in other to create employment for oneself, and others, succeeding through being innovative, courageous and passion driving, in other to stay afloat of the turbulent economic waters presently and in the future

Theme: Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

Therefore, in a time like ours in Nigeria, graduates in this auditorium have been equipped adequately, to weather through the storms to make a bold step by creating a niche for themselves and for the betterment of the world through entrepreneurial venture

Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial, Persistency as a force for success

To scholars, it may sound illogical and ridiculous to argue that hysteresis has many benefits to spur young graduates to action, when unemployment, lack of basic necessities of life, difficulties occasioned by harsh economic realities, are staring them at the face, but the facts still remain that through histories, times of difficulties, are times societies, tribes and nations, rise to the occasion in becoming more pro-active and innovative, conquering their challenges and coming out stronger and prosperous. This is why, Barbara de Angelis encourages that “Adversity in our lives, may seem like a problem, however, adversity can make us grow and learn, an opportunity that we may never have experienced. It all depends on how we look at it.”

Catherine Pulsifer opines that “We don't develop courage by being happy every day. We develop by surviving difficult times and challenging adversity.” In other words, hysteresis is the hottest coal chamber, where the gold in us is purified, so that our true value is seen and admired, it is the womb where the best men and women are birthed.

But to come out unhurt, our young and dynamic graduates must internalize these two virtues, entrepreneurial spirit and persistency as the driving force that must guide them to a glorious all round success.

How to Beat the Heat of the Moment

To start this glorious journey, the following are needed;

(a) Be Visionary

Eagles hardly miss their target preys, when they attack. Don't be an unreasonable hunter, but a smart one.

(b) Stay and Discuss with Like Minds

Be very choosy when looking for friends. Don't be like a product on the shelf anyone can easily pick off the shelf.

Your circle of friends will determine your level of success or speed in life. Par with right companies, your Association determines your Altitude.

(c) Leveraging on NYSC monthly allowance as a launching pad for business start up

National Youth Service Corps is a project designed by the Federal government of Nigeria to integrate and foster unity and understanding among different ethnic groups in the country and immediately after graduation, it is mandatory to serve in any of the states of the country, with monthly allowance till after service, therefore your new mantra for service should be;

© meaning of NYSC

N..... New

Y..... Year

S..... Startup

C..... Capital

You can build a little off take capital after your service through savings

(a) Develop your Capacity

Your capacity is the twin to your capability. Your capacity is your true value, it determines your capability. In our current global community, you may never require your certificate to be a super success, but a combination of your University Education, self-development, and natural talents and potentials, I bet you a space amongst the champions.

How do I build capacity?

Theme:

Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

1. Look for a Mentor
2. Read books that are relevant to where you are going in life
3. Enroll for training. There is no sports man or woman that stays back home to train, but always in the field
4. Go for volunteerism

(e) Develop a better Character/ Attitude

Your character will determine how far you can go in life. No matter your level of capacity, character deficient is enough to stop you. If you doubt me, ask Tiger Woods or Iron Mike Tyson Your character determines your capital worth.

(f) Stay Innovative

Innovation is the process of bringing about new ideas, methods, products, services, or solutions that have a significant positive impact and value.

If you truly want to remain relevant in the world of business in our contemporary world, you must continue to innovate and wow your clients.

(g) Every beautiful Edifice starts with a Foundation, start small and grow organically.

Real men and women of worth today started small. Our Vice Chancellor or Director of Centre for Entrepreneurial Studies, did graduate and became the Professors. Don't pursue success without a purpose in mind.

True success is determined by products and services you are willing to give. In other words, when we are people centered, in our approach to success, people will give you easily the money you are looking for. Avoid cutting corners to your success pursuit. Remember "if you Blow, you will burst, but if you Grow, you will have tap root in a sure foundation"

Recommendation

Firstly, we are in a digitalized world, therefore, develop further in your Information and Communication Technology skills because of the following;

- (1) Job opportunities called, remote jobs. You don't need to travel to any parts of the world to work for them and you are paid in hard currency,
- (2) You can now sell multimillion naira worth of goods without owing a shop or any kobo invested in purchasing these goods before you can sell, all it demands is going to those business men or women who have these goods and you stay in the comfort of your house to advertise them through your social media handles. It is called, "Affiliate Marketing"
- (3) Content creation. All of these and many more are just in the comfort of your room and you are on your way to making millions every day.

Secondly, there is global change in products and services that very soon, electric cars, compressed natural gas CNG will take over the automobile industry. Prepare and position yourself early enough to take advantage of these opportunities by availing yourself for trainings.

Finally, the bill passed recently by the Senate and signed into law to give one hundred thousand persons in each state fifty thousand naira each for three years as a grant to the awardee, is commendable, however, Nigeria citizens are not beggars looking up to anybody to give them monthly alms, therefore, Anambra State Government can channel this five billion naira yearly grant into genuine SME by selecting and channeling into five hundred businesses with each receiving ten million naira each and before the end of the three years, one thousand, five hundred startups would have benefited as a loan that is payable in three years so that other startups can also benefit.

Theme: Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

This will not only create jobs, but will feed many families and stem the growing crime in the society.

Conclusion

It was William Arthur Ward, Thisuri Wanniarachchi & Robin Sharma, who admonishes that “Adversity causes some men to break; others to break records.”

“Life is at its best when everything has fallen out of place, and you decide that you're going to fight to get them right, not when everything is going your way and everyone is praising you.”

“You were given this life because you are strong enough to live it.”

You are born a Champion that was why you were celebrated at birth. Don't disappoint Destiny.

See You at the TOP!!!

1.0 Introduction / Background to this paper

The Ag. Vice Chancellor, Chukwuemeka Odumegwu Ojukwu University, Professor Kate Azuka Omenugha, the Chairman of today's Occasion, Father and Mother of the day, Dean, HODs, Lecturers, Paper Presenters, Graduating Students, Distinguished Ladies and Gentlemen, I greet you all. I am humbled once more to speak before academics and our teeming youths as a faculty member in this commendable exercise aimed at retooling and resetting the mindsets of our cherished and most critical resource (the Youths) as this school prepares them for the challenges in national and global space. The challenges of our nation are enormous and includes fiscal indiscipline, corruption, insecurity, poor infrastructures and policy inconsistencies, all resulting into deteriorating micro and macroeconomic variables that are not only real but seemingly daunting. Past and present leaders of this country at various levels have obviously failed the nation and her citizenry most especially the mass audience here present through lack of vision, creativity and innovation as entrepreneurs to face a rapidly changing and volatile ecosystem.

It is only by appreciating the existential challenges and making collective affront that we can avoid economic recessions and consequential repercussions of poverty, hunger and starvation, poor health and general poor wellbeing. The Youth represented here by the graduating students are the most reliable game changers to the regrettable but existing bad economic narratives in Nigeria. It is against this background that this paper will harp on the need revamp, restore, revamp, rebuild and rehabilitate our ailing economy for sustainable prosperity.

Permit me at this juncture to appreciate the COOU and her CES for always showing exemplary commitment to providing scholarly solutions to a disrupted Nigeria economy that is not only yearning for ideas but result oriented actions. This is the trajectory that every other Ivory Tower is urged to emulate and quickly key into to guaranty and accelerate real economic growth and development of the country. I therefore call on participants especially students to ensure active participation as it would make them build their capacities and competences.

This paper is aimed at exposing the realities of the fragile Nigerian economy, agitate and galvanize our minds especially the youths, arm themselves with the requisite entrepreneurial mindset which is a sine qua non to rebuilding and revamping an already turbulent and battered Nigeria's eco system. This paper therefore is a conscious effort aimed at nurturing entrepreneurial leaders that would champion the disruption of the already disrupted and distorted Nigerian economy through knowledge sharing, skills setting, capacities building and competencies for our critical human capital (the youth) for increased productivity and enhanced wellbeing of Nigerians.

Theme:

Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

I therefore expect scholarly fireworks from paper presenters in the areas of human capital development, entrepreneurial leadership and networking, financial technology, digital service deliveries, professionalism, corporate ethics and good governance, financing structures and financing for development, cybercrimes and fraud prevention and their causality impacts on productivity, economic resilience and development.

Setting the ground

Permit me to start by sharing the quotes of the Vice President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, Alhaji Kashim Shettima made to the graduating students of the University of Maiduguri on Saturday November 18, 2023 to express further how important and urgent that we rebuild Nigeria:

- ✓ “The era where graduates rely solely on the government for employment is over”.
- ✓ “You must use their education and entrepreneurial skills to make positive impact on the society”. “The success in life brings with it challenges”.
- ✓ “You are graduating today; our nation is faced with myriads of problems”.
- ✓ “Start an enterprise no matter how small your capital or ideas is”.

With the above setting to tone, I would quickly speak on the following areas for maximum impact:

- ✓ State of the Nigerian economy.
- ✓ Global realities and the threat to Nigeria's dominant product – the oil or fossil energy.
- ✓ Disruptions in our eco-business system that require the ingenuity of champions of disruptions to reset.
- ✓ Essentials to disrupting the existing disruptions in our eco-business system.
- ✓ Exposing Entrepreneurship.
- ✓ Business startup.
- ✓ Capital structure for an entrepreneurship startup.
- ✓ Financing entrepreneurs (Lending principles and considerations).
- ✓ Review of theories in support of entrepreneurial disruptions as well as some empirical submissions?
- ✓ Conclusion

2.0 STATE OF NIGERIA ECONOMY THAT NEEDS REBUILDING

Before Nigeria's independence, the Western Nigeria through its cocoa built the cocoa house, roads, schools, stadia and gave free education to westerners. The Eastern Nigeria through coal and palm produce sustained itself while the Northern Nigeria used groundnut to develop its region. It is instructive to note that Nigerian economy was agrarian post-independence as oil had not been found, explored and abused. The advent of oil however brought total neglect to all the sectors sustaining Nigeria pre independence and we became lazy, carefree, visionless and financially reckless. No wonder in his book titled “Curse of Oil”, Professor Pat Utomi described the Nigerian position as a curse than blessing.

Survival of Nigeria as a country Post Independence revolves around oil and regrettably the revenue from oil is not determined by Nigeria as it is determined through international collaborations. Oil price is a function of crude quota (determined by OPEC) and prices of oil in the international market. From the foregoing, it is factual to state that the fate of the Nigerian economy is controlled by external influences and forces and therefore Nigeria is highly prone to global shocks from unfavorable policies. This is why we must restructure, rebuild and diversify our highly volatile, unpredictable and non-sustainable economy.

Nigeria's position is even exacerbated by internationally developments in the area of alternative energy which is threatening the value and importance of oil. Continued dependence of Nigeria on its monolithic oil going forward should and must be of great concern especially to the youths that are easily described as the leaders of tomorrow, a tomorrow which is like a mirage. There is decreasing use of fossil oil internationally as alternative renewal energy is gaining prominence. I am sure you have all heard about green energy and electric powered cars. In no distant time, the petrol filling stations will become history and what shall become of Nigeria in such imminent circumstance.

Furthermore, Nigeria exports its crude oil cheaply and imports refined oil expensively with alluded “subsidies” as refineries are not working and are primed not to function thereby giving way for corruption to thrive. Leadership in Nigeria is all about the Oil, NNPC and its subsidiaries and who manages them. Profit optimization is definitely antithetical to the NNPC as none of her refineries is known to have posted profits. They are purely leakage pipes.

It is pertinent to appreciate that the World Bank is no longer funding upstream and gas projects apart from certain gas projects in poorest countries in exceptional circumstances. This is aftermath of the climate summit in Paris in response to the failing world battle against climate change.

The obvious effects of Oil becoming less relevant under the contemporary place of things are reflected on the Nigerian economy as disruptions to our productivity that we must address and they include:

- ✓ Dearth of capital for infrastructural development financing.
- ✓ Falling Per Capita Income and state of Wellbeing of Citizenry.
- ✓ Escalating inflation.
- ✓ Deteriorating exchange rate.
- ✓ Increasing unemployment and underemployment level.
- ✓ Corruption.
- ✓ Accelerated government borrowings with the concomitant debt burden.
- ✓ Lack of financial discipline resulting into failing businesses and failing government
- ✓ Upsurge in insecurity and security challenges.
- ✓ Bad roads and Poor healthcare.
- ✓ Hunger and Anger in the land.

Nigeria as at July 2023 was ranked as the largest economy in Africa and the 30th largest economy in the world with GDP of USD477billion with a population in excess of 218million. Nigeria's Per Capita Income is on a free fall, dropping from USD5,188 in 2019 to USD2,273 in 2020, to USD2,085 in 2021 and further to USD2,066 as at end of 2023 ranking a distant 149th position in the world. It is important to understand that the standard of living and wellbeing of a country is measured by per capita income. Nigeria's economy relies mainly on oil but with global developments in the area of renewable energy, greenhouses and electric engines, oil now has diminishing importance in the globe.

All the above issues make economic growth unrealistic and daunting. With Nigeria's growing population currently estimated in excess of 220million by the United Nations, the problem becomes exacerbated and the group that will be worst hit are the youths. Where lies the future of the youth on whose shoulder we hope for economic resilience and sustainability?

4.0 ECONOMIC DISRUPTION

Disruption connotes reasonable changes, challenges, or disturbances that affect socio – political and economic – religious aspects of life. Disruptions in Nigeria's economy are triggered by diminishing earnings from fossil energy, financial indiscipline, increasing social media relevance, growing population and rapid shift in education and learning values and cultures, increased prominence of entrepreneurial studies, quantum leap in e-commerce, artificial intelligence and automation of activities, rise in financial technology businesses and technology advancement that have shifted the pattern of and flow of transaction, use of automation and emerging reliance on financial technology in reshaping financial transactions reporting and accountability.

Further identified disruptions in Nigeria's eco-business system is terrorism with its concomitant effect that include loss of life time savings, cost of medical treatment, loss of properties, low productivity and psychological trauma and loss of lives. Global cost of terrorism was put at USD10.5billion in 2022. Another key disruption is corruption. Nigeria ranked 150 in corruption index on 2022. Corruption and conflict fuel each other.

4.1 DISRUPTING A DISRUPTED NIGERIAN ECONOMY

According to Koffi Anan, the former UN Secretary General, “Africa's disruptions are the raw materials of its transformation - forging a path to a better tomorrow”. Furthermore, in the words of Nicky Verd, “Africa's transformation lies in innovation, creativity, emerging technologies and entrepreneurship”. From the above we can only inoculate against disruptions in Nigeria through education and acquiring contemporary knowledge and awareness.

- ✓ Knowledge of how to start a vibrant economic system
- ✓ Knowledge of how to finance a vibrant economic system.
- ✓ Education, training and capacity building in all sectors.
- ✓ Knowledge of strategic management evaluation and operational control □ □ Technological awareness.
- ✓ Creating enabling environment that would facilitate support locally and internationally for the economy.
- ✓ Promotion of justice, equity and fair play.
- ✓ Transparency, inclusion and involvement of every stakeholder in public affairs.

Individuals are the greatest disruption agents that Nigeria must rely on because they are the managers of all the other identified parties. The individual must appreciate our precarious economic state and be willing change agents. They must be educated, well trained and technologically current. They must be ready to be strategic thinkers and have entrepreneurial mindset. They must be job creators and must be transparent, accountable, promote meritocracy, eliminate corruption, eliminate clannishness, eliminate sectionalism, eliminate favoritism and mediocrity.

4.3 ACKNOWLEDGED REACTIONS OF SOME STAKEHOLDERS IN REBUILDING THE NIGERIAN ECONOMY

4.3.1 THE EXECUTIVE

The Nigerian government has on paper been striving to restructure the Nigerian economy to a multi-product economy and ease the over reliance on oil in response frailty and vulnerability of the economy. The government has at different times applied various macro-economic measures targeted at defending the naira and building her foreign reserves including.

- ✓ Privatisation
- ✓ Financial Inclusion
- ✓ Export Incentives
- ✓ Reduction of wastages – IPSS and TSA.
- ✓ Economic stimulus.
- ✓ Different foreign exchange policies and regimes.
- ✓ Fiscal and monetary policies – Different Tax Policies, MPR, CRR and Liquidity ratios. □□“Increase in the activities of anti-corruption agencies – ICPC and EFCC”.

4.3.2 THE CORPORATES

Companies hit by the challenging economic challenges as a result of carelessness and lack of strategic managers of the Nigerian economy have resulted to:

- ✓ Increase in product pricing.
- ✓ Diversification of their product lines.
- ✓ Compulsory improvement on operational efficiency □□Introduction of cost optimization measures □□Deploying digital technology for smart operations.
- ✓ Reduction of import dependence and turning to local contents and substitutes
- ✓ Sad decision of having a smart and productive workforce with the sad decision to retrench for non-value addition. There are practically no jobs out there and our youths must fathom and craft a legal and creative way to survive. □□A lot of companies have exited the Nigerian space.

4.3.3 THE EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS AND NGOs

- ✓ Deployment of solution technologies □□Introduction of entrepreneurship studies.
- ✓ Management Sciences Conferences to address contemporary issues – This is what we are doing currently.
- ✓ Increased research grants.
- ✓ Building of skills acquisition centers.

8.3 EMPIRICAL SUBMISSIONS ON ENTREPRENEURSHIP

According to Jenson Unrau (2019) “no matter how great your business idea may be, its success depends on one very important factor: other people. You can get all the other building blocks in place – a solid CRM, a brick an mortar storefront, inventory out of the ears and an advertising strategy but devoid of strong network, you will not reach the ceiling very quickly”.

Entrepreneurial leadership is a type of leadership that consists of actions towards establishing of a business at individual level, actions towards following the innovations at the organizational level and actions towards benefiting from the opportunities that are distinguished at the market level argued Alvarez and Barney (2002).

Cover and Sterin (2002), identified six main characteristics of entrepreneurial leaders as supportive entrepreneurial skills, interpretation of opportunities, protecting the innovations threatening current business model, questioning the current business logic, reviewing the simple question and associating entrepreneurship with strategic management.

Yusuf Esmar and Faruk Dayi (2017) noted that Bagheri (2017) alluded that the innovative business behavior of the entrepreneurial leader had positive impact of high-tech employees on opportunity recognition.

8.4 PERSISTENCE IN BUSINESS START UPS AND BENEFITS.

Persistence is a vital leadership quality that help entrepreneurs overcome obstacles, learn from the past and stay focused. Specifically. Persistence entrepreneurs are equipped to embrace challenges:

Impact	Benefits
It make them be visionaries and target champions	Job creation Innovation
Persistence aids adaptation	Personal fulfillment
It helps a business build resilience	Financial reward
It leads to collaborations and networking	Economic Growth
It gives room for progress to be celebrated	Autonomy
It ensures learning from criticism	Diversification
It breeds discipline	Social Impact
It ensures positive attitude	Learning and development

9.0 FUNDING EXISTING AND PROSPECTIVE ENTREPRENEURS

Availability of finance for existing or prospective entrepreneurship is critical as finance is the lifeblood of every business. Funding of any business is known as its capital structure. Funding can be from either own source (equity) - not repayable and stable or borrowed source (debt capital) – repayable and not stable or through grants which comes free. Each funding source comes with different considerations and risks. It is however a known fact that as youths and school leavers as beginners, may find it very difficult to raise funds from financial institutions because of the associated risks referred to as credit risk which is the risk of possibility of default. Financial institutions carryout what we call financial intermediation where they gather funds from the surplus units/savers and channel these funds to the deficit units/borrowers for business at a profit. The capital therefore does not belong to them and safety becomes paramount. This explains why government, international donors and philanthropists come up with interventions to support youth business startups.

4.3.4 ASSESSMENT OF REACTIONS RESPONSES

As laudable as the above measures and reactions are, inconsistencies and discontinuity in the system, executive indiscipline, compromising and reckless attitudes of government agencies have made them ineffective.

The country has failed to harness its biggest resource opportunities. Our human resource is key and we need to be entrepreneurial in our thinking. We have also failed to address our induced energy poverty. We have also failed to give attention to both the rural and urban settings for creation of jobs and setting the template for a live able and loveable society.

We have equally failed in involving our youth in the attraction of investments. Globally, digital technology drives different investments and who understands this better than the youth. This will eliminate wastes and push up much needed revenue. Technology and digitally driven ecobusiness system is very sacrosanct for economic growth and sustainability.

The government should create supportive policies that would ensure the emergence of digitally backed hubs across the country to support cities with entrepreneurial mindsets and also those that would ultimately key in. The digital hubs will engender the realization of the UN's Sustainable Development Goals.

Inadequate savings have always been the anathema of developing and less developed economies and as such the government need to emplace instill a stress-free system of remittance to enlist diaspora support which has huge potential for capital inflows. It is of note that even with existing unsupportive and unfriendly policy, foreign remittances into Nigeria in 2022 was USD21billion which is huge and has untapped potentials to influence our economy. More of these remittances should be attracted and channeled to critical sectors.

5.0 THEORETICAL VIEWS ON ENTREPRENURSHIP AND CAPITAL STRUCTURE

5.1 Traditional theory of capital. The traditional theory of capital structure postulates that the value of a business is optimized when the average cost of the various capitals used in running such a business is minimized. Recall that we agree that debt financing is costlier than equity financing.

5.2 High achievement Theory by McClelland (1961). McClelland posits that the individual with high levels of needs achievement is a potential entrepreneur. How do we situate ourselves in this theory?

5.3 Resource Based Theory of entrepreneurship by Jay Barney which is a strategic management theory designed to explain the reason for better performance of some firms over others operating in a similar business space. It posits that competitive advantage comes from a firm's effective use of its tangible and intangible assets.

5.4 Contingency Theory. This is an organizational theory that posits that no best way exists in organizing a business. It believes that the course of action is contingent on environmental situations.

6. SETTING UP A BUSINESS START UP AS AN ENTREPRENEUR.

1. Conduct market research to identify if a business opportunity exists. This involves information gathering through market intelligence obtained by market scanning or survey. A PESTLE analysis can be carried out here. It is an Acronym for Political, Economic, Social, Technological, Legal and Environmental factors that serve as strategic management tools you should use to analyze your business and react accordingly.
2. Construct a business plan or roadmap.
3. Articulate the funding needs of the business and potential sources.
4. Select or pick your business location. This is very important and can have tax implications.
5. Choose a business structure.
6. Choose a business name that would give you a unique identity.
7. Pick your staff carefully.
8. Register your business for legality and protection of your brand.

7.0 BUSINESS TYPES

A business is any creation or entity that is set up to carry out activities that involves buying and selling or service provision or value addition with the aim of making profit. There are different types of business for start ups which our teeming students can embark on including the Sole proprietorship, Partnership and Private Liability Company. Since they are just starting, such business will be classified as Small and Medium-Sized Enterprise (SME) which the government supports a lot.

8.0 ENTREPRENEURIAL LEADERSHIP

Every Youth in the country should strive to become an entrepreneurial leader. Entrepreneurial leadership involves organizing and initiating a group of people to achieve a common objective through innovation, risk optimization, taking advantages of opportunities and managing the dynamic organizational environment. Entrepreneurial leadership has been identified as an important factor affecting the performance of the company especially in leadership of small scale family businesses.

Peter Deslie, a leadership expert gave the definition of leadership which captures what the presenter of this paper considers apt in explaining entrepreneurial leadership. He defined leadership as the ability to influence other people with or without authority. The key to being a leader lies with people who can influence others to share their vision and get them to follow them without being their superiors. To be able to influence people, you have to have (1) the ability to communicate, resolve conflicts and make decisions as you can only give what you have –“nemo dat quod non habet” (2) the awareness -that every action has effect (3) Commitment to your ideas which may not excite all and be ready to deal with the consequences.

8.1 CHARACTERISTICS OF A SUCCESSFUL ENTREPRENEUR

We will use the submission of the Young Entrepreneur Council in 2013 which listed the following twelve characteristics for a successful entrepreneur:

- Flexibility – Changing with progress.
- Humility – Must be humble
- Focus. - Spend time and energy on the business.
- Decisiveness – Make good and timely decision.

- Vision – Very important so that the employees can key into it. This leads to goal congruence.
- Paranoid Confidence. Should chart a balance between paranoid and trust.
- Ownership – Take ownership and charge.
- Positivity – Should have positive disposition.
- Salesmanship – Ability to communicate and effect sale.
- Self-awareness – Know your strength, weaknesses, opportunities and threats (SWOT).
- Ability to listen – Must be good at listening. Listening to both customers and employees.
- I will add PERSISTENCE as a very key characteristics.

8.2 MOTIVATORS OF AN ENTREPRENEUR

Every prospective entrepreneur is motivated by the following which must be inherent in them?

- ✓ Autonomy: Desire to be ones' boss.

- ✓ Financial Success: Financial safety net for family and self. □ □ Legacy: Creation of a longevity brand.

9.1 SOME AVAILABLE INTERVENTION PROGRAMMES AND GRANTS FOR THE ECONOMY

Different funding programmes of the government through the Central Bank and grants through organizations and NGO are available for startups. Some of them are: Lagos State Employment Trust Fund, Bank of Industries Graduate Entrepreneurship Fund, Tony Elumelu Foundation, GROFIN, Youth Investment Fund, CBN Anchor Borrowers Fund, African Young Entrepreneur, SMEDAN, United States African Development Fund, AGSMEIS, Growfin Fund amongst a host of others.

9.2 THE CBN ENTREPRENEURIAL DEVELOPMENT CENTRES

Due to the obvious importance entrepreneurship in transforming and rebuilding the already disrupted Nigerian economy, the government deemed it necessary to set up Entrepreneurship Development Centers in the country to aid in training and grooming of entrepreneurs and create a critical number in addressing our struggling economy. The centers are in Ibadan, Porthacourt, Maiduguri, Kano, Enugu and Lagos for wider reach of Nigerians.

9.3 CROWDFUNDING

Crowd funding is a major introduction that recognizes the difficulty of a certain segment like the youth in raising needed capital for business startups. It is the result of ingenuity and creativity. Crowd funding is a way of raising money to finance projects and businesses. It enables fundraisers to collect money from a large number of people through online platforms. Crowd funding is most often used by startups companies and growing businesses as a way of accessing alternative to conventional funds. It has a major leverage of giving useful market insights and access to new customers. Crowdfunding is achieved through platforms that enable interaction between fundraisers and the crowd. There are already Crowdfunding platforms in Nigeria including Crowdyvest, Wefund, Nijafund, Gofundme, Quick raise, Growfin, Backerscc, Dapo amongst others. There are different types of Crowdfunding including the Peer to Peer Crowdfunding, Equity Crowdfunding, Donation based Crowdfunding, Profit / Revenue sharing Crowdfunding, Debt Crowd funding and also the Hyybrid Crowdfunding. It is however imperative to regulate these platforms as what is not inspected is not respected.

9.4 NETWORKING IN ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Networking in entrepreneurship refers to the art of developing and using contacts made in business for the purpose beyond the reason of the initial contact. Networking is a crucial and important skill of an entrepreneur. It serves as a web that link the entrepreneur to different and varying people and resources. Business networking is all about connecting people which will be beneficial for each others business. The entrepreneur has to be clear about what he or she hopes to achieve through networking. According to Lewis Howes, effective networking is not a result of luck; it requires hard work and persistence.

Networking is not what you know but who you know. It is great to spend time at a networking event with someone you know and like but that's not what you are out there for; your goal is to expand your network by meeting new people- Beth Ramsey. Every entrepreneur should be conscious of both the internal network (intra firm) and external network (outside the firm) as they are keys to a successful entrepreneurship. The internal network looks at the respect culture, openness, trust, transparency and inclusiveness within the firm. The external network looks at the firm's local, national and international environments. Building a network is vitally important to getting a business off the ground and just as important to growing the business in the long term. It serves several purposes and not just for you. Networking just connects with entrepreneurs.

11.0 SUBMISSIONS BY REKNOWNED CEOs ON IMPERATIVES FOR ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Let us quickly look at what some successful CEOs said about entrepreneurship and see if we agree with them.

- ❖ Entrepreneurship is at the core of American dream. It is about blazing the trails, about believing in yourself, your mission and inspiring others to join you in the journey. What set an entrepreneur apart are the will, courage and sometimes, resilience to actually do it. -Derek Hudson, President and CEO of Datical.
- ❖ Entrepreneurship is a pursuit of a solution, a single problem or doing something drastically different from the way it is done today. It is aiming to do something better than it has ever done before and constantly chasing improvement. – Blake Hutchinson, CEO and Small Business Expert at Flippis.
- ❖ Entrepreneurship is the constant hunger for making things better and the idea that you are never satisfied with how things are. – Debbie Roxaezade, Founder and CEO of Rachel's Kitchen.

The most successful entrepreneurs are the ones who possess the GRIT. Grit is made up of passion, persistence and resilience. It is the passion to achieve long term goals, the courage to try again in the face of rejection and the will to do something better than it has been done before. The most successful entrepreneurs tends to be the gritty ones, they do not give up until they exceed their goals. When the going gets tough and they get knocked down, the gritty entrepreneur bounces right back up and try again. – Deborah Sweeney –

- ❖ CEO of My Corporation.
- ❖ Ability to listen, whether it be to the opinions of the customers or employees, is also integral to success. While you must have the confidence to make your own choices, it is still incredibly important not to become detached from people whose needs you are trying to meet. – Traith Kamdar, Founder CEO, Truefacet.

Theme:

Hysteresis, Entrepreneurial Persistency and Sustainability of Graduate Start-ups in Nigeria

- ❖ Being an entrepreneur is like heading into uncharted territory. It's rarely obvious what to do next and you need to have to rely on yourself a lot when you run into problems. There are many days when you feel like things never work out and you are operating at a loss for endless months. You have to be able to stomach the roller coaster of emotions that comes with sticking out on your own. – Amanda Austin, Founder and President of Little Shop of Miniatures.
- ❖ Finally, for deeper understanding of how to become a successful entrepreneur, let us hear the wise words of Alan Mruvka who is the co-founder of E! Entertainment which is a favourite of the Youths and celebrities. “I knew E! was a great idea, people called me a genius, but I do not think I am, I just have a good idea. Everyone has great ideas though, but they do not work on them”. You must face challenges. Hear Mruvka “when I went about raising fund to start E!, I figure I must have been rejected over 400 times.” It was not until Alan got an initial offer of $2.5million to start the network that E! took off. Alan however noted that “you can't even make a movie for $2.5million, but we managed it”. Alan noted those that rejected him are crucial to his pivotal leadership style. As an Entrepreneur, you must get angry especially when things seem not to be working as planned. Hear Alan again: “when I started E!, my mentor told me I would not be successful until I get angry. At times, I did not understand, but there is a truth to it; rejection is a part of life, so you have to have a rage in to get something going. I have probably had more failures than successes, but that's how we fuel success”.

12.0. INSPIRATION FROM A SUCCESSFUL ENTREPRENEURSHIP ‘PAYSTACK COMPANY’.

Paystack is a finance and technology service priding company co-founded by Shola Akinlade who attended St Gregory College Lagos and Babcock University where he studied Computer Science. He worked as management trainee and database manager for Heineken but left after two years to creative things for himself. His first entrepreneurial stint was when he set up Klein Devort, a software development and consulting company with his friend Mayowa Okegbenle in 2008 with a flagship product called Precurio. In 5 years, the company had 200,000 companies and their software was available in six different languages. Banks started engaging him, and in the process came the idea of Paystack. In his words “I always knew the state of payments wasn't where it should be, but I did not it was going to be me. But just working with the banks, I just figured there is someone that can figure out payments, it probably will be me because I built world class before and now, I have access and understand how financial system works”.

- ✓ In 2018 the company secured USD8million Funding
- ✓ In October 2020 Paystack was acquired by a US payment giant Stripe for over USD200million.

Are you wowed? What do you think made Paystack a success? Also create time to look at the Flutter wave story. The answer to their success story is found on entrepreneurship leadership and the requisite qualities which we will look at immediately.

14.0 CONCLUSION

The Nigerian business environment is bedeviled by the challenges of low capital savings, corruption, high cost of funds, inflation, deteriorating exchange rate, bad leadership, poor power supply, bad roads, unemployment, policies inconsistencies, poor technology especially in government circle, financial exclusion, insecurity and civil unrests all combine to retard economic growth and development.

It is against this background that this paper attempted to reset the mindset of Nigerians especially the youth and redirect them to embracing entrepreneurship as a quick way to revamping our hemorrhaging economy by changing it from an oil dependent one to a multiproduct economy with the support of digital. Oil is growingly losing its relevance in the global space and the country needs to react urgently.

Let me conclude with the song of Whitney Houston "Greatest Love of all"

I believe the children are future
Teach them well and let them lead the way
Show them all the beauties they have inside
Give them a sense of pride to make it easier
Let the children laughter, remind us how we used to be

Lyrics

I have decided long ago
Never to walk in anyone's shadow
If I fail, if I succeed,
At least I'll live as I believe
No matter what they take from me,
They can't take away my dignity

The belief, optimism, enthusiasm, determination of the government, individuals and every stakeholder in the Nigeria project is very important. Together we can do it. Just go out there and create long and sustaining business brands and improve the country's wellbeing.

Thank you for your time.
